Students with hearing loss in regular classrooms need to be able to speechread their teachers. They also need a good set of class notes. The difficulty is that it is almost impossible to do both of these things at the same time. Now, The Note-Writer offers a solution. The Note-Writer is a simple system that makes an immediate copy of whatever is written. A hearing student can take his own lecture notes and make a copy for the deaf classmate at the same time. This allows the student who is deaf to concentrate on speechreading the teacher.

Other uses for The Note-Writer have been found:

- ✓ Teachers prepare lecture notes, automatically making a copy for the student.
- ✓ Teachers use it to keep the tutor up-to-date with the work of the class.
- ✓ Speech-Language Pathologists use it to keep a record of therapy sessions.
- ✓ Teachers and administrators use it in meetings to make instant copies.

The Note-Writer is available in these formats (MA residents, please add 5% tax):

The Deluxe Note-Writer A 3-ring binder, a Note-Writer filler, and a set of instructions for setting up and monitoring a notetaking system. Price: $12.25.

The Note-Writer A tablet containing 50 sets of notetaking paper. The pages are lined and 3-hole punched to slip easily into the student's own notebook. Price is $6.25.
